Why you should choose dormakaba as your Workday solution partner

Advice
Qualified application consultants work with you and your Workday consultant to develop your individual solution. In addition, there is a highly-motivated team specializing in Workday interfaces, communication and the technology of dormakaba terminals at your disposal.

International
We work internationally. This sets us apart from the others. There are over 1800 dormakaba installations in the ERP data collection market spread all around the world. In more than 60 countries around the globe satisfied customers are using dormakaba. Our branches on location and our partner companies ensure comprehensive customer service.

Software
The b-comm solution is constantly advancing with new Workday releases and is therefore kept up to date. In addition to this, with a variety of useful modules, we offer you a modular system of highly flexible software solutions to supplement and optimize your application.
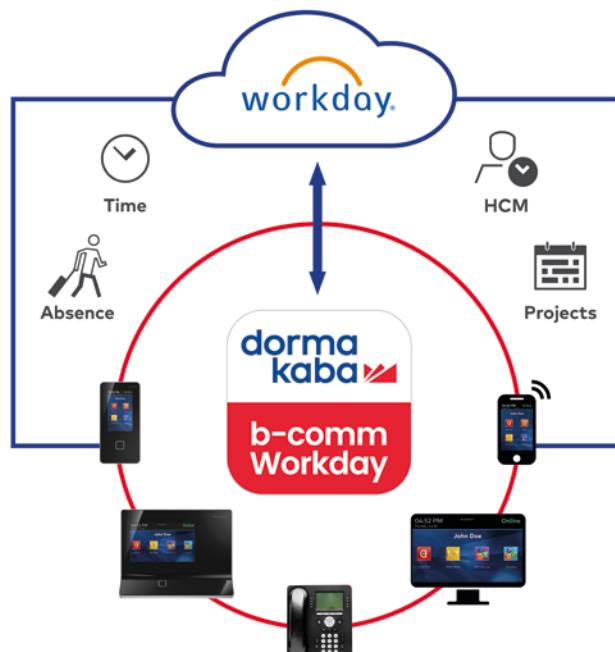

Hardware
Thanks to new technologies, we have integrated the terminal functions and data processing into one innovative overall system. The applications of our new terminals communicate with websites and databases. This means that you can be flexible in terms of the type of your installation (on premises or hosted).

Protection of investment
With the development of new dormakaba terminals, the compatibility of one terminal series with the next terminal family always has top priority. This way, we ensure that you can use a mixture of your existing and new dormakaba terminals together, thereby protecting your investment for many years to come.

Quality
We develop and produce all components in an ISO 9001 approved quality management system. With modern development methods and procedures, our employees have dedicated themselves to meet your quality requirements without compromise.
