

UNIVERSAL motion

Hydraulic self-closing patch fitting

Discreet hydraulic functionality, no additional hardware

The UNIVERSAL Motion redefines what's possible in a patch fitting. Compact and clean in form, it integrates discreet hydraulic closing power directly into the corner fitting, eliminating the need for floor closers or overhead devices. Ideal for offices, conference rooms, and low-traffic interior spaces, the UNIVERSAL Motion delivers smooth, self-closing performance with minimal visual impact. It's the perfect blend of form and function for refined environments.

Effective

Designed for doors up to 176 lb and 39-3/8" wide, the UNIVERSAL Motion ensures smooth, quiet, and consistent closing. An optional 90° hold-open version provides added functionality when needed. The hydraulic mechanism engages from a 70° opening angle, with adjustable closing speed and latching from 15°.

Efficient

The UNIVERSAL Motion simplifies planning and installation, no floor closer required. With just four small anchor points, it preserves finished flooring, including systems with underfloor heating. Ideal for new builds or retrofits, it saves time, protects surfaces, and reduces installation costs

Easy

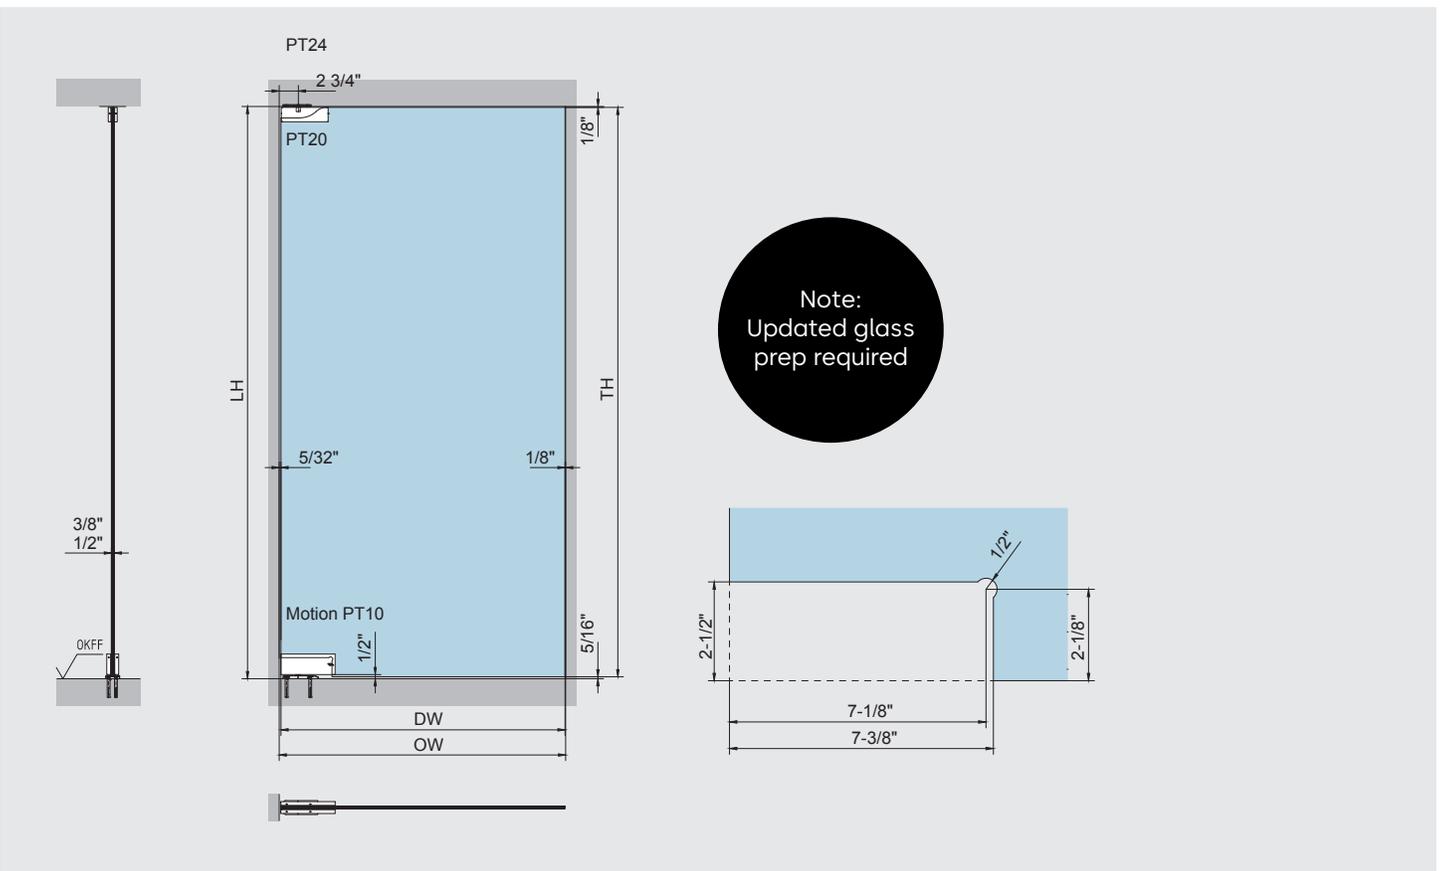

The UNIVERSAL Motion mounts with a precise glass cut-out and a 2-3/4" adjustable pivot point to align with top fittings. Durable stainless steel cover caps available in satin, polished, or powder-coated finishes with a wide range of powder coat options ensure a seamless aesthetic match to any environment.
